Houston Money Week Impact Report

“Keeping your Money On The Move Through Good Money Habits”

ABOUT HMW

At Houston Money Week, we are committed to delivering impactful financial education. The initiative was established to instill confidence and knowledge among participants. This goal is accomplished through instruction from financial experts, equipping the community to cultivate sustainable financial practices.

The collaboration and coordinated efforts by organizations across Houston host informative events promoting access to financial resources and opportunities. Attend any of the events by our partner organizations and start your journey to financial empowerment. Since 2016 Houston Money week and collaboration has resulted in:

Our Why

Fifteen Year Anniversary

According to recent data, 26% of Houstonians identify the economy as the most significant challenge facing the region. Our goal is to alleviate these concerns by offering free financial counseling and services to the community, thereby creating opportunities for improvement and support.

Forty-three percent of Houstonians feel they would struggle with a $400 emergency expense. Partner organizations are hosting events to provide financial counseling, helping the community manage unforeseen situations. Promoting financial wellness is crucial for achieving and maintaining financial prosperity.

Approximately 8% of Houston's population is unbanked, while an additional 17% is classified as underbanked. Among our partners are banking institutions that offer safe and affordable BankOn Certified accounts to address these financial accessibility issues.

One out of every four households in the Houston area utilizes alternative financial services, which collectively incur over $3 billion in fees for Americans annually. Houston Money Week provides an opportunity for individuals to develop better financial habits to steer clear of these costly alternatives.

OUR SIGNATURE EVENTS

Fifteen Year Anniversary

Our Holiday Social

More than 102 participants came together to celebrate and acknowledge their achievements from the past year at the end-of-year event. This year's holiday social is set for December 13, with an open invitation extended to financial institutions and city council members to join the celebration.

OUR SIGNATURE EVENTS

Fifteen Year Anniversary

All Partners Conference

At the 2024 All Partners Conference, we were pleased to unite 72 organizations from across Houston to discuss our ambitious objectives for Houston Money Week 2024. Our primary goal is to host 30 impactful events designed to enhance the financial well-being of Houston residents. During the conference, we introduced our executive team, launched our new website, and emphasized various opportunities for organizational involvement, including sponsorship options. This gathering provided a valuable platform for prospective host organizations to exchange ideas and collaborate towards our shared mission of improving financial literacy and overall community well-being.

PARTNER Highlights

Fifteen Year Anniversary

Woodforest National Bank

Woodforest National Bank demonstrated exceptional community commitment by hosting 30 events in April alone. They extended their outreach beyond the English-speaking community, also engaging the Spanish-speaking community

the YMCA International Services

Financial Literacy Workshop for Refugees

The YMCA hosted a Financial Literacy Workshop for refugees, collaborating with the Houston Women's Center to offer a comprehensive five-day program featuring over ten events. These events were specifically designed to educate refugees about the American financial system, empowering them to better integrate into society. Demonstrating innovation, the YMCA brought in linguistic specialists for each language spoken by the participating refugees, ensuring effective communication and understanding.

Bank Of America

Bank Of America partnered with the Better Banking program to help educate 120 students Better Money Habbits . They also helped each student open their very first Bank account.
